

EXECUTIVE INSIGHTS

Sales & Performance Analysis Report

1. Sales by Region

Business Question: Which region generates the highest sales?

Insight:

The South region generated the highest sales, while the East region recorded the lowest sales. This indicates stronger market performance in the South. The company should analyze successful strategies used in the South and apply them to improve lower-performing regions.

2. Profit by Segment

Business Question: Which customer segment is the most profitable?

Insight:

The Consumer segment generates the highest profit, followed by Corporate, while Home Office contributes the least profit. Marketing efforts should continue focusing on Consumer customers while developing strategies to improve the Home Office segment.

3. Sales by Category

Business Question: Which product category contributes the most sales?

Insight:

Technology is the highest-performing product category, followed by Furniture. Office Supplies contributes the smallest share of total sales. Increasing investment in Technology products could further improve business performance.

4. Top 10 Products

Business Question: Which products generate the highest sales?

Insight:

A small number of products generate a significant proportion of total sales. These best-selling products should be prioritized for inventory management, promotional campaigns, and customer retention strategies.

5. Monthly Sales Trend

Business Question: *How do sales change over time?*Insight:

Monthly sales remain relatively stable throughout the analyzed period, with several noticeable peaks and declines. Identifying the reasons behind high-performing months can help the company replicate successful sales strategies during slower periods.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Total Sales reached $5.97 million.
- Total Profit reached approximately $562.8 thousand.
- The company processed 10,000 customer orders.
- The Average Order Value was $596.83.
- Technology is the highest-performing product category.
- Consumer is the most profitable customer segment.
- South achieved the strongest sales performance.
- The business shows stable sales trends with opportunities to improve lower-performing regions and customer segments.